

Charlie Landsborough, God Knocking On Your Door

Your heart is like a little room
Where feelings come to stay
And all you need is a loving broom
To sweep the dirt's away
And if you try to keep it clean
And keep your feelings pure
May be you will hear the sound
Of God Knocking on your door

So keep you're heart a sacred place
Full of all that's good
And pray to god will give your grace
To do the things you should
And fill your room with gentleness
And love that will enjoy
Maybe you will hear the sound
Of God Knocking On Your Door

When you're feeling happy and your heart is alive
It's a clue close to you
Making sunshine from your night
So fill your hearts with treasure
That will not fade or rust
For blessings being measured
Come to those who trust
And watch and pray and every day
Into your room with God
Maybe you will hear the sound
Of God Knocking On Your Door

MUSIC

When you're feeling happy
When your Heart is light
It's a clue it's Close to you
Making sunshine from your night
On Christmas night I'll praise the light
That burns eternally
And I'll remember all the things that Jesus did for me
I'll feel his birth renew the earth
And Fill my room with all
And maybe I will hear the sound
Of God Knocking On My Door
