

Charlie Landsborough, Part Of Me

Life is leading us to different places
When you're gone I don't know what I'll do
I will learn to smile at other faces
But part of me will always be in love with you.

Who knows where another year will find me
Gone will be the lovely things we knew
But each starry night will still remind me
And part of me will always be in love with you.

Part of me will always be wherever you are
Wanting you so although we're apart
Part of me will never let your memory get very far
Away from me you'll always be in my heart.

Other lips may learn to kiss me sweetly
And darling when I find somebody new
I will make believe I'm hers completely
But part of me will always be in love with you.

Part of me will always be wherever you are
Wanting you so although we're apart
Part of me will never let your memory get very far
Away from me you'll always be in my heart
And part of me will always be in love with you.
