

Cher, Hold You Tighter

Two more days and we'll be home
Two more days and we won't be alone
We'll see things that we recognize
We'll get to look in our baby's eyes
And I know that you're lonesome baby
It's hard hanging on
I know that you're tired baby
But I'll help you be strong

CHORUS:

Cause I'm gonna hold you tighter (tighter)
Tighter (tighter), tighter (tighter)
(Baby)

I'm gonna hold you tighter (tighter)
Tighter (tighter), tighter (tighter)
(Baby yeah, yeah)

We've been out on a thirty-day gig
Paid our dues cause that's how we live
Sometimes we laugh and sometimes we cry
Sometimes we're weary and sometimes we're high
Hey I know that you're lonesome baby
It's hard hanging on
I know that you're tired baby
But I'll help you be strong

Chorus

How'd you tell a baby that's just eight months old
Her daddy and momma gotta work on the road
Every night she won't get kissed
Cause we're out here trying
To get her all the things that we missed
And I know that you're lonesome baby
It's hard hanging on
I know that you're tired baby
But I'll help you be strong

Chorus

It's seems kinda funny that it ain't just you and me
The number was two and now we changed to three
We added one more color and the color made us brighter
But to keep our rainbow blowing now we gotta be a fighter
And I know that you're lonesome baby
It's hard hanging on
I know that you're tired baby
But I'll help you be strong

Chorus
