

Cheryl Cole, Girl In The Mirror

You can always sense with me
When things ain't quite right
I barely speak
I can't seem to sit still tight
There's many things that run
And pass through my mind
It's hard to show when you're
The only one with your eyes

Life expects me to be strong
Doesn't always mean I've gotta sing that song
Need to take it easy on yourself
I need to take it easy on myself
I've been picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Stressing me to be a women
Oh I don't need this today
I don't know quite what to say
To the girl in the mirror
I've been picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Mirror, mirror, mirror
Picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Mirror, mirror, mirror

Take this time to think things out right
'Cause when I'm weak all I seem to do is fight
There's many ways that I could say that I'm not fine
Still I hold it back with water filling my eyes

Life expects me to be strong
Doesn't always mean I've gotta sing that song
Need to take it easy on yourself
I need to take it easy on myself
I've been picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Stressing me to be a women
Oh I don't need this today
I don't know quite what to say
To the girl in the mirror
I've been picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Mirror, mirror, mirror
Picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Mirror, mirror, mirror

With the girl in the mirror
In the mirror
With the girl in the mirror
In the mirror
I've been picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Stressing me to be a women
Oh I don't need this today
I don't know quite what to say
To the girl in the mirror
I've been picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Mirror, mirror, mirror
Picking little fights
With the girl in the mirror /2x
Mirror, mirror, mirror
