

Cheryl Cole, Love Made Me Do It

I took the fast lane all of my life I've been the bad girl, I've been the good wife I don't stop to think, when I go in I go in I've fallen hard like a million times on number 7 of my 9 lives take ink on my skin is all the places I've been oh my god, I'm such a sucker I fall in love with every fucker but oh no, I won't apologies cause I'm breaking all my rules but love made me do it should have used my head cause my heart really blew it

love me do it
it wasn't my fault
and now I am losing all my cool but love made me do it
should have used my head cause my heart really blew it
and I'd do it again

I did my time in the yellow brick road I saw sime shit that make your head explode had to do what I do just to get me to you and all my friends are like, woah, girl, stop cause they're the ones who pick the pieces up it's bad for my health but I just can't help myself

I'm such a sucker, I fall in love with every fucker but oh no, I won't a[apologies, nah!
