

Chris Brown, First day of Spring

man I got lucky Look what (what) I stumbled upon
A woman that sees me for me and not what Ive done
You give me this feeling
Willing to give you my time
Girl you make me feel like everythings alright
Its sort of like
Hearing the birds chirpin
In the morning light (morning)
Or maybe even receiving a kiss goodnight
Girl you got me believing we just might
End up being more then just two friends
Ohhh
When were together
It feels, I feel
The sunny weather puts a smile right on my face
So why would I ever turn my back on what we have Ohh girl you always bring that first day of spring
We kept things friendly
Without crossing that boundary darling i'm expressing
Are you listening?
You give me that feeling
Willing To give you my time
Girl you make me feel like everythings alright
And Its sort of like Hearing the birds chirping
In the morning light
Or maybe even receiving a kiss goodnight
Girl you got me believing we just might
Ohhh
When were together
It feels, I feel
The sunny weather puts a smile right on my face
So why would I ever turn my back on what we have Ohh girl you always bring that first day of spring
