

Chris LeDoux, One Road Man

There's so many roads a man can take
One wrong turn can make a good heart break
When it comes to you well there'll be no mistake
I'm a one-road man

There are men who like to see the sights
And they get sidetracked by theses city lights
But I'm coming home to you tonight
I'm a one-road man

Iv'e known some backroads
They're nothing new
They'll take me anywhere
But not to you

So when there comes a time when I am gone
And you're wondering what road I'm on
Don't you worry girl, because I'll soon be home
I'm a one-road man I'm a one-road man
