

Christina Milian, When You Look At Me

Tell me who do you think you see?
You're standing in your corner looking out on me
You think I'm so predictable
Tell me who do you think I am?
Looks can be deceiving, better guess again
Tell me what you see when you look at me?
You're probably thinking that I want those things
Cash, cars-diamond rings
Think' on my side the grass is green
But you don't know where I have been
I could be a wolf in disguise
I could be and angel in your eyes
Never judge a book by it's cover
I could be your crook or your lover
I could be the one or the other
If you'd look beneath you'd discover
You just don't know me
Tell me who do you think you see?
Your standing in your corner looking out on me
You think I'm so predictable
Tell me who do you think I am?
Looks can be deceiving, better guess again
Tell me what you see when you look at me?
You look at your neighbor thinking, what a guy
'Cuz he's got a 9 to 5
And I bet that you don't realize
He stalks you while you sleep at night
But you're scared of the homeless guy
Think, he's gonna wanna start a fight
Never judge a book by it's cover
I could be your crook or your lover
I could be the one or the other
If you'd look beneath you'd discover
You just don't know me

Tell me who do you think you see?
Your standing in your corner looking out on me
You think I'm so predictable
Tell me who do you think I am?
Looks can be deceiving, better guess again
Tell me what you see when you look at me?
Tell me who do you think you see?
Your standing in your corner looking out on me
You think I'm so predictable
Tell me who do you think I am?
Looks can be deceiving, better guess again
Tell me what you see when you look at me?
Now tell me, who do you think I am?
You don't even know me
Well, did you think about this?
I could be your crook or your lover
I could be the one or the other
If you'd look beneath you'd discover
You just don't know me
Tell me who do you think you see?
Your standing in your corner looking out on me
You think I'm so predictable
Tell me who do you think I am?
Looks can be deceiving, better guess again
Tell me what you see when you look at me?
Tell me who do you think you see?
Your standing in your corner looking out on me
You think I'm so predictable
Tell me who do you think I am?

Looks can be deceiving, better guess again
Tell me what you see when you look at me?
