

Cinemon, Remember Me

Restless days and sleepless nights
When I come to the end of the road
Worked so hard but I'm afraid
It might be as well be not working out

A few a hundred or a thousand more
When exactly is enough
This one I have to figure out on my own
No-one will tell me that

Win or lose or lose or gain
In an effort to last a few more breaths
All the words worth writing down
You'll never forget, right, you'll never forget

My friends and family
Hope they'll remember me
I don't think they even know
What's going on in here
But I'm sure I'll remember you

My friends and family
Hope they'll remember me
I don't think they even know
What's going on in here
Stars and the universe
They won't remember me
But I'm sure I'll remember you
