

Cliff Richard, GOLDEN

Love affairs don't always last forever
Like flowers in the rain they fade and die
But you and I stood side by side
Through the storms together
Because of you I kept my dream alive
And love has been the song upon my heart
Through all these years
And I have lived a life that has been blessed
Through laughter and through tears

And as the seasons change
One thing remains the same
You've always been right there with arms wide open
You're the treasure in my soul
And I will never let you go
A love affair that never will be broken
You have been golden

Destiny has brought me to this moment
I stand before now with no regrets
What a chance to thank you for the memories
You've given me a life that's filled with happiness
And love been the song upon my heart
Through all these years
And I have lived a life that has been blessed
Through laughter and through tears

And as the seasons change
One thing remains the same
You've always been right there with arms wide open
You're the treasure in my soul
And I will never let you go
A love affair that never will be broken
You have been golden

And as the seasons change
One thing remains the same
You've always been right there with arms wide open
You're the treasure in my soul
And I will never let you go
You gave me life
You gave me strength
And through all out the years
You have been Golden
You have been Golden
