

Close To Home, A Broken Home

Is there a place I can go to escape all of this pain
Is there some way I can push aside
What was left of years ago
All those fight made me feel so lost and alone

By day break you were always home
I know you cared about me but it didn't always show
By nightfall i was on my own
I cried myself to sleep but never let you know

Frustrated
And stranded
I feel so abandoned
This is useless
I'll use this, I'll use this

At daybreak you were always home
I know you cared about me but it didn't always show
By nightfall i was on my own
I cried myself to sleep but never let you know.

Never gonna change
He's never gonna
He's never gonna change
He's never gonna change
He's never gonna
He's never gonna change
