

Cnx Anti-Social, Cell Explotion

There are times that I don't wanna to see you There are times that I don't wanna even touch you There are times that I wanted to drown in a shout and forget about that image of yours but I don't dare...

There are times that I stop dreaming you of caressing you until no longer I can There are times that I wish to die with you and forget about all matter
but I don't dare...

There are times that I don't know what happens to me
No longer I can't know what happens inside me
We are like cats with fervor
We are a cell that explotes
And that one you can't stopped....no,no.
