Cobra Starship, Being From Jersey

Success has its price And can you hear me now That I'm dumbing myself down? Is it filling you with doubt That I am who you thought? I know it's just a game But I'm playing it to win I won't forget from where I came But it's time to take over Oh yeah And can you hear me now Someone save me from the sound Of my own voice Can't you tell That I sound like I'm dying? Oh yeah I'm tired of waiting Yeah, I'm tired of waiting I'm tired of being The poor, cliche, misunderstood Tired of waiting Yeah, I'm tired of waiting It's time to get faded Because I can't think anymore
