

Coldplay, Crest Of Waves

It could be worse
I could be alone
I could be locked in here on my own
Like a stone that's certain that drops
And never stops
I could be lost
Or I Could be saved
Calling out from beneath the waves
Beaten down by this ocean rain
Never again
Never again
Ohhh, Ohhh
Ohhh, Ohhh
Screaming out from the crests of the waves
It could be worse
Bittersweet
It could be snapped from the jaws of defeat
Like a light lit upon a beach
Where your heart only sleep
Oh
You want to stop before you begin
You want to sit when you know you could swim
You want to stop before you begin
Never give in
Never give in
Ohhh, Ohhh
Ohhh, Ohhh
Screaming out from the crests of the waves
Nothing matters
Except life and the love you make
Nothing matters
Except life and the love you make
Nothing matters
Except life and the love you make
Except life and the love you make
Screaming out from the crests of the waves
Screaming out from the crests of the waves
When your longing to be saved
Screaming out from the crests of the waves
When your longing to be saved
Screaming out from the crests of the waves
