

Collage, Living In The Moonlight

Living in the Moonlight
Visions are floating through my mind
And here, by the fire
I can't tell the sparks from shooting stars
Living in the Moonlight
I feel so safe and so secure
And she's my religion now
She's not here but I can feel her heart
Living in the Moonlight
I feel the emptiness of the dawn
And the splendour of a rainy Fall
Makes my tears escape into the ground
Walking in the blue light
Digging dreams by a single touch
A splendour in dying
Never ever was my guiding light
So lonely so lonely
So lonely in the starlight dazzling rain
So lonely, forever faithful
When I feel silence in my heart
I call your name out in the dark
To break the spell
To make it right
... get me out of here
