

Commissioned, When Love Calls You Home

Waiting on the edge of your prodigle heart
Wanting for someone to save you from yourself
Out there on the edge dangling somewhere in the darkness
Doubting if anybody really cares

But when Love reached through the shadows
Whispering your name
And nothing will ever be the same again

Chorus:
For when Love calls you home
Forgiveness embraces a past you once owned
And all the mistakes that carried your name are gone
Cos that's what happens when Love calls you home

Craddled in Your mercy that has no limit
I've finally found a place where I belong
Now I can't imagine one moment without you in it
It's hard to believe I tried to make it on my own

But You picked me up from the ruins of my broken life
And when every chance was spen You gave me one more try

Chorus
