

Crobot, Legend of the Spaceborne Killer

The legend of the spaceborne killer
Made the front page today
Nobody knows where he came from
Why he's here, or what he'll do to you

I just saw the flashing lights
They blinded me they shined so bright
In this neon scene I can't help but to believe
This world was never ours

No more buildings to stand tall
He must've destroyed them all
Is it half bird, half bot, or half alien
I don't know but he's got something in his hand!!!

The legend of the spaceborne killer
I met face to face today
I couldn't tell what he wanted
If I had it to give I would've gave it away

I just saw his glowing eyes
They blinded me they shined so bright
In this hazy screen, I can't see
Was it all a dream or reality?

No more buildings to stand tall
He must've destroyed them all
Is it half bird, half bot, or half alien
I don't know but he's got something in his hand!
