

Crush, Excuse

You don't have to go
Unless I'm coming on too strong
But you got to tell me why
You feel the situation is so wrong
Do you think he'll understand
When you're slipping in the door at half past two
Will the writing on the wall
Give it all away too soon

Seasons change
Sun up, sun down
I've been waiting for you
But I can't wait around no more

Chorus:
I want to be your excuse
Let me be the one you use
I want to be your excuse
I want to be, I want to be

In the early morning light
When you've had time to sleep on things
Will you fly in through my door
Or has the devil gone and clipped your angel wings
You got to let me know
One way or the other where I stand
'Cause I can't read your mind
The decision is in your hands

Things are gonna change
Some up, some down
I've been waiting for you
But I can't wait around no more

Chorus

Solo
Seasons change
I'm up, I'm down
I've been waiting for you
But I can't wait around no more

Chorus
