== Translation == <lyrics> That day I didn't think... that I would fall so much in love But somewhere in my heart I felt something

Without making a sound, without knowing it it's passing by in time You... [as for] you... the love changes into strength

How many times have we kissed since the day you gave me an unforgettable kiss? My love wells up in my heart so much that I think of you I could see our future on the other side

Why am I recently not so concerned about the habits that I used to hate compared to back then? I sense it

Everyone lives in destiny, not going against it You taught me that fate can be changed, didn't you

How many times have we kissed since the day you gave me an unforgettable kiss? In the seasons, you came walking here, so even the future we can't see is on the other side

Someday, until the time we have our last kiss, I am by your side

From the day you gave me an unforgettable kiss, [it was] so much that I couldn't count In the season, no matter when I believe in you and we came this far From now on I will keep on believing [in] our future
