

Damien Rice, Front Door

What is it that happens to me when you're around?
I try to bring some love
I'm just bringing it down
What is it that happens to me when you're around?

What is it that happens to me when you're around?
I try to say something
And nothing comes out
What is it that happens to me when you're around?

A broken voice
In a broken door
A broken choice
That I broke some more
A broken me
Am I breaking you?
And if i push you too hard
I push you right through

What is it that happens to me when you're around?
You call to my door
But I don't come out
What is it that happens to me when you're around?

What is it that happens to me when you're around?
It seems like my words tremble
Like a creaking ground
What is it that happens to me when you're around?

A broken voice
In a broken door
A broken choice
That I broke some more
A broken me
Am I breaking you?
And if i push you too hard
I push you right through

A broken voice
In a broken door
A broken choice
That I broke some more
A broken me
Am I breaking you?
And if i push you too hard
I push you right through

What is it that happens to me when you're around?
What is it that happens to me when you're around?
