

David Phelps, Someone Who Cares

Words & Music by David Phelps

There is someone who cares.
There is someone who dares, to love you.
And His arms are open wide, waiting there for you to run inside.
There is someone who cares when you reach for Him, Hes there.
I pray youll learn somehow, somewhere.
Jesus is that someone who cares.

One mistake made in your past holds to you hard and fast,
And mocks what might have been - theres no place for you to hide.
You know cause you have tried it time and time again.
Im not gonna stand here and tell you everythings gonna be all right.
There is no way that I could know just what youre goin through tonight.

There is someone who cares.
There is someone who dares, to love you.
And His arms are open wide, waiting there for you to run inside.
There is someone who cares when you reach for Him, Hes there.
I pray youll learn somehow, somewhere.
Jesus is that someone who cares.

I can see it hurts you bad.
I dont want to see you sad.
Just open up your heart to find a love like youve never, ever had.

There is someone who cares.
There is someone who dares, to love you.
And His arms are open wide, waiting there for you to run inside.
There is someone who cares when you reach for Him, Hes there.
I pray youll learn somehow, somewhere.
Jesus is that someone who cares.

I pray that somehow and somewhere youll learn that
Jesus is that someone who cares.
I know Jesus really, really cares.
