

Dawid Podsiadło, Let You Down

Feel the rhythm of the streets
Neon lights and neon dreams
Bloody fists they feel no pain
When there's so much more to gain

Hunting season if you will
Tell me where'd you'd rather be
I can hardly see the moon
Hope we'll get there pretty soon

Trying so hard to release
You out of the misery
Hold on to your wishes
If you can't hold on to me

Forgive me for letting you down
Forgive me for letting you down again
Guess I'm not strong enough
Right now

They will finally feel the flames
Flames that run down through my veins
I will make this city burn
We're not planning to return

Trying so hard to be free
To make you see what I see
Hold on to your wishes
If you can't hold on to me

Forgive me for letting you down
Forgive me for letting you down again
Guess I'm not strong enough
Right now

Forgive me for letting you down
Forgive me for letting you down again
I guess I'm not strong enough
Right now

Let you down
Oh, let you down
Let you down
Oh, let you down
