

Deacon Blue, Here I am in London Time

Here I am in London town
Waiting for the world to begin
Waiting for the world to begin again
Let me in

Here I am in London town
Waiting for the world to begin
Waiting for the world to begin again
Let me in

I'm amazed at you now
You don't see the world turn like I do
I'm amazed at you now
I can feel the weight of the whole world
You see it much more clearly than I can ever did

Here I am in London town
Waiting for the world to begin
Waiting for the world to begin again
Let me in

I can picture you now
But there's still so much I can't remember
And so much to forget
But it's forgetting that makes it easy
That's how we survive

Here I am in London town
Waiting for the world to begin
Waiting for the world to begin again
Let me in
