

Dean Lewis, Looks Like Me

You've been working ten hours
And your feet are still aching
You tell your friends to come over
To forget about your problems

You say you talked to somebody
He even looks like me
Baby why do you say things
That make me believe

Than you're sorry
YOu're sorry
But you're not sorry at all
I Wonder how could it hurt you
You've got no feelings involved
And then i tell you what you
And you say nothing at all
You say nothing at all...

Cause i need someone who loves me
And i know it don't come easily
And maybe i am just not good enough at all
To feel your love
So how am i supposed to let go
When you won't let me let go
And maybe i am just not good enough at all
To feel your love

And now i am walking down sunset
With me feeling on repeat
I Wonder what you been thinking?
Are you thinking about me?

Than you're sorry
YOu're sorry
But you're not sorry at all
I Wonder how could it hurt you
You've got no feelings involved
And then i tell you what you
And you say nothing at all
You say nothing at all...

Cause i need someone who loves me
And i know it don't come easily
And maybe i am just not good enough at all
To feel your love
So how am i supposed to let go
When you won't let me let go
And maybe i am just not good enough at all
To feel your love
