Dean Lewis, Looks Like Me

You've been working ten hours And your feet are still aching You tell your friends to come over To forget about your problems

You say you talked to somebody He even looks like me Baby why do you say things That make me believe

Than you're sorry
YOu're sorry
But you're not sorry at all
I Wonder how could it urt you
You've got no feelings invbolved
And then i tell you wnat you
And you say nothing at all
You say notjing at all...

Cause i need someone who loves me And i know it don't come easily And maybe i am just not good enough at all To feel your love So ho wam i supposed to let go When you won't let me let go And maybe i am just not good enough at all To feel your love

And now i am walking down sunset With me feeling on repeat I Wonder what tyou been thinking? Are you thinking about me?

Than you're sorry
YOu're sorry
But you're not sorry at all
I Wonder how could it urt you
You've got no feelings invbolved
And then i tell you wnat you
And you say nothing at all
You say notjing at all...

Cause i need someone who loves me And i know it don't come easily And maybe i am just not good enough at all To feel your love So ho wam i supposed to let go When you won't let me let go And maybe i am just not good enough at all To feel your love
