

Decade, Brainfreeze

I'm gonna be honest when you ask me
If I remember when I was young,
Bits of memories begin to form
I just can't put the faces to the names.

I'm having doubts about the state I'm in
I can't see any lights
Perhaps there's no one in.

Head down on my knees
Trying to find a way to cure this brainfreeze
Tell me this ache is going away today
Tell me something, tell me you're the same.

I'm gonna be honest when you ask me
If I've got better things to do
But you see, my time's well spent when my time's spent with you.

I'm having doubts about myself again
Maybe I'll shake it off
Maybe this is the end.

Head down on my knees
Trying to find a way to cure this brainfreeze
Tell me this ache is going away today
Tell me something, tell me you're the same.

So tell me I'm right
Won't be the first time,
Won't be the last time that I'm right.

I'm having doubts about the state I'm in
I can't see any lights
Perhaps there's no one in.

I'm having doubts about myself again
Maybe I'll shake it off
Maybe this is the end.

(Won't be the first time,
Won't be the last time that I'm right.)

Head down on my knees
Trying to find a way to cure this brainfreeze
Tell me this ache is going away today
Tell me something, tell me you're the same.
