

Diffuser, Long Way From Home

this one is the one that i evny take a look in his eyes and youll see the sea
we were young having fun till you broke down hold on by a thread dangling face down run to leave

do you know where to go when you get there through the haze i can see only cold stares take all you can wrong or right take all you can roll the dice of your life

couldve been so much more than theyre asking living up to someones expectations didnt sat much took the wrong bus heading nowhere

danny is a long way from home he dont care what they say it doesnt matter anyway 20 years from today
