

Dilba, Every Little Thing

Stubborn 18

thinks he knows everything never takes an advice he is not listening

She's out in the blue so much dreaming to do young and rebel defines what she wants out of life Baby, you should have been the arms to run and hide in
the one in my life

I thought I could trust, but
(Ref.)

Every little thing in my life
Everything I felt so right I never knew that i would re-write the time of my life, to not knowing better Anything that I can think of Everything that it was made of I never knew that I would rewind I'm not going back never again, no

Wiser 30

takes it slow and slowly appreciates little things is no longer running When I look at you and you're looking at me
In my airborne wings thinking it was worth it
baby, you should have been
the one in my life
I thought I could trust, but

Ref.

If life is a test and love's for the best Who doesn't deserve happiness Well you gives no clue searching blindly, and the truth,
Is that we never stood a chance...
