

Disturbed, Bad Man

Bad man, such a sad man

Is it ever enough

Will you ever find a new obsession

What a bad man, like a blind man

So lost in the dark

Still searching for his own salvation

Bad man, you've been had man

You can never return

And you're never going to find redemption now

Bad man... a bad man

Another madman

Oh bad man, what's the reason why

Innocents always have to die by your hand.

No, I will never understand

Why these cowards bow your demands

We're all victims of at the mercy of... another bad man

Bad man, no, you didn't think that we were ready for war, and you questioned our determination

Take it back man, 'cause we're not dealing with your shit anymore, you're about to have an education

Damn man, got a plan man, need to settle the score, there's no way that you can be forgiven now

Bad man... a bad man

A fucking madman

Oh bad man, what's the reason why

Innocents always have to die by your hand

No, I will never understand

Why these cowards bow your demands

We're all victims of at the mercy of... another bad man

Oh bad man, what's the reason why

Innocents always have to die by your hand

No, I will never understand

Why these cowards bow your demands

We're all victims of at the mercy of... another bad man

Oh bad man, what's the reason why

Innocents always have to die by your hand

No, I will never understand

Why these cowards bow your demands

We're all victims of at the mercy of... another bad man
