

Disturbed, Enough

We don't want them, we want everything
And we've stolen in this suffering
And we've told them to want everything
But use caution in what you believe

And the haunted deny everything
Controlling in this suffering
When they're broken and lost everything
They're so much easier to lead

Take their hope away
Take their life away
Leave them nothing
Left inside

When your own have died, when there's no more pride
When your soul is frozen, is that enough?
When your heart is broken a thousand times
With every moment, is that enough?

Without warning, we take everything
Undaunted in this suffering
The dark forces surround everything
Make it impossible to see

Take their hope away
Take their life away
Leave them nothing
Left inside

When your own have died, when there's no more pride
When your soul is frozen, is that enough?
When your heart is broken a thousand times
With every moment, is that enough?

Haven't they suffered enough now?
Haven't we suffered enough now?
Haven't they suffered enough now?
The damage more than they can bare

Haven't they suffered enough now?
Haven't we suffered enough now?
Haven't they suffered enough now?
The damage more than I can bare

Did they even have a reason why
Countless sons and daughters had to die?
Can you even comprehend the pain?
Tell me when your

Own have died, when there's no more pride
When your soul is frozen, is that enough?
When your heart is broken a thousand times
With every moment, is that enough?

When your own have died (Own have died)
When there's no more pride (No more pride)
When your soul is frozen, is that enough? (Is that enough?)
When your heart is broken a thousand times (A thousand times)
With every moment, is that enough?
