

Dixie Chicks, Who Will Be The Next One

I always wanted true love but somehow I've always failed
To find the man who'll always go my bail
As I look across the room tonight I wonder helplessly
If the man I need is looking back at me

I wonder who will be the next one
That next man who'll sweep me off my feet
I wonder if he'll be the last one for me
Will he break my heart or love me tenderly

I hope someday I find the man who'll give my heart a break
Always want me near and crave the love we make
Now will he be a friend of mine or maybe someone new
I'm so lonely Lord, I only wish I knew
