

Dolly Parton, If You Ain't Got Love

What good is wealth and fame
Fine clothes and diamond rings?
It just don't mean a thing
If you ain't got love

But you can have your cake and icing too
If you got someone to love that cares for you
Cause love's the sweetest gift we can possess
To have true love is to be truly blessed

Cause joy and happiness and peace of mind
It's what we all desire but seldom find
But nothing in this world can take its place
Let's fill our hearts with love, for goodness sake

Cause what good is wealth and fame
Fine clothes and diamond rings?
It just don't mean a thing
If you ain't got love

Big homes and fancy cars
Rubbin' elbows with the stars
But it still won't get you far
If you ain't got love

If you ain't got love, if you ain't got love
Then you ain't got much, if you ain't got love
If you ain't got love, you're out of touch
You ain't got enough if you ain't got love
Show me some love now

If you ain't got love, if you ain't got love

Cause what good is wealth and fame
Fine clothes and diamond rings
Well, it just don't mean a thing
If you ain't got love

Big homes and fancy cars
Rubbin' elbows with the stars
But that still won't get you far
If you ain't got love

Cause if you ain't got love, if you ain't got love
Then you ain't got much if you ain't got love
Cause if you ain't got love, you're out of touch
You ain't got enough if you ain't got love
You're out of touch, you ain't got enough if you ain't got love
