

Dolly Parton, Love To Remember

Your love's as fresh in my mem'ry as this morning's sunrise
And still just as beautiful to me
I can still feel the soft touch of love sweet and tender
You give me love to remember
Nights with no ending filled with love I'm remembering
Each night that I spent with you
I can still feel your soft touch I can still feel your warm love
You give me love to remember
And each morning when I wake up before I leave my pillow
I search through my dreams carefully
Just to make sure that I don't leave one tiny mem'ry
Cause I dream of the love I remember
Nights with no ending filled with love I'm remembering
Each night that I spent with you
I can still feel your warm love I can still feel your soft touch
For you give me love to remember love to remember
