

Dolly Parton, Red, White And Bluegrass

As American as apple pie, Mom and homemade jam
As proud as punch and peacocks, you know I am, I am
An All-American girl what knows good music and good times
Red, white and bluegrass, I'm not color blind

Red, white and bluegrass...red, white and blue
These are my true colors and I love my bluegrass, too
America, America, let pride and freedom ring
Red, white and bluegrass, let's all stand up and sing

Where else but in America can people live so free
And I'm proud of every soldier that has stood and fought for me
And I'm proud of every bluegrass band that's ever picked a lick
And I'm proud to be American, that's why I'm a singin' this

Red, white and bluegrass...red, white and blue
These are my true colors, and I love my bluegrass, too
America, America, let pride and freedom ring
Red, white and bluegrass, let's all stand up and sing, and pick

Red, white and blue, I love my bluegrass, too
Red, white and bluegrass, don't you love it, too?

Red, white and bluegrass...red, white and blue
These are my true colors and I love my bluegrass, too
America, America, let pride and freedom ring
Red, white and bluegrass, let's all stand up and sing

Red, white and bluegrass, the red and white and blue ooh-oo-oo
Blue, ooh-oo-oo, red, white and blue
Red, white and bluegrass, red and white and blue
Red, white and bluegrass, red and white and blue
Red, white and bluegrass, don't you love it, too?
Red, white and bluegrass, let freedom ring
Red, white and bluegrass, everybody pick and sing

Red, white and bluegrass, red, white and blue
Red, white and blue ooh-oo-oo
Red, white and blue
