

Dolly Parton, Something To Reach For Again

Last night, in the arms of a stranger
I tried losing your memories
But she was just something to reach out for
When I'm needing your arms around me

Each time I'm with him only tells me
Just how much I really love you
Oh and he is just something to reach out for
When I'm needing my arms around you

Constantly reaching for something to lean on Someone to comfort me since I lost you
Reaching for something but knowing but nothing
For no one could ever get me over you

I just need something to reach out for
When I'm needing my arms around you
