Dolly Parton, Tender Lie

(Randy Sharp)

As you walk away As we say good-bye What I wouldn't give For a tender lie Say you'll never stop loving me Just as if it were true How much more damage now honestly Could one tender lie do? When we fall so far Are we wrong to try? To keep out the truth With a tender lie Say you're gonna come back to me And I'll believe that it's true How much more damage now honestly Could one tender lie do?

Say you're gonna come back to me And I'll believe that it's true How much more damage now honestly Could one tender lie do? How much more damage now honestly Could one tender lie do?