Donna Summer, Love Is The Healer

So many times in my life I've been alone, left alone Heart broken and Turned around I find myself Crying in the night time Dying out loud In the night I sleeplessly Wake up From a dream that's Tormenting me I, I, I, I, I gotta get help Oh, yeah

Love is the healer Love is the healer Come heal me Love is the healer Love is the healer Set me free

Late at night I was afraid And I tried to turn away I was afraid to face What in-evil-it-able is

Say you know the way
To find true freedom
Can you save yourself
From the pain you're feeling
Something in my head that you're dreaming
That the angels said

Love is the healer Love is the healer Come heal me Love is the healer Love is the healer Set me free Love is the healer Love is the healer Come heal me Love is the healer Love is the healer Love is the healer Love is the healer

I am on a mission, a mission of love I am on a mission, a mission of love I am on a mission, a mission of love I am on a mission, a mission of love I am on a mission, a mission of love

Love...is the healer

Love is the healer Come as a healer Set me free Love is the healer Come as a healer Set me free Love is the healer Come as a healer Set me free Love is the healer Come as a healer Set me free

Do you know the way to love Do you know the place of love Do you know what love Can do Do you know what It'll do for you
