

Dottie West, Someone's Gotta Cry

Someone's gotta cry when love is over and as you leave it's very plain to see
You're not about to cry for you're in love again
But someone's gotta cry so that leaves me
There's very little left to say the goodbyes have been said
But anytime a true love dies there's tears to be shed Someone's gotta cry that makes it final and in her arms is where you wanna be
You smile at her she smiles at you and you're happy
Oh but someone's gotta cry and that leaves me
Yes there's very little...
