

Dragonforce, Revelations (Demo Version)

Coming down the mountain on high
Towards the battle we go side by side
Our hearts are filled with honour and pride
Cause we know our time has come

Silent voices down from below
Rising up through the ice and the snow
Ancient angers cast upon all
Through the land of the slain

Through the dark night and through the rain
Fighting machine we are risen again
Striving forever more...
We will survive

Stand and fight!
Join the light!
Into the battle with power and might
Sound the guns!
Raise the cannons of war

With the north star to guide us
We ride on the sky
Blazing up through the heavens
Like eagles we fly
And the horsemen shall come
They will judge all your lives
Revelations will now be unveiled

Darkened night set to swallow the light
All is lost there's no one left to fight
Overpowered by the glory and might
Of the ones who stand tall

Fallen heroes scattered around
Deafened ears opens up to the sound
Painful cries rising forever more
From the victims of life and of war

Through the dark night and through the rain
Fighting machine we are risen again
Striving forever more...
We will survive!

Stand and fight!
Join the light!
Into the battle with power and might
Sound the guns!
Raise the cannons of war

With the north star to guide us...

No more hope of freedom
Our dreams are washed away
The second age is coming
It's the dawn of a new day
Judgement stands before us
The second king will rise

Our swords will shine with honour
Hatred fills the sky...
Hatred fills the sky...

With the north star to guide us...
