

Dragonforce, Summer's End

Sometimes we play
Sometimes we lose with pride or with shame
Sometimes a dream
Turns into dust, but who's there to blame?

Try not to forget
And to understand and read between the lines
Get back on your feet
You've got one more chance to make it right this time

The reason we stand
Facing the rising sun, the pain goes on and on
We hold deep inside
The power to guide us until we touch the sky

The reason we stand with pride
Is the will to live and to reach for the stars
So never look back
And we'll keep on fighting until we touch the sky

Sometimes the pain
Runs deep inside and all seems in vain
Sometimes the fear
Darkens the path and leads us to strain

Tears in our eyes
And our hopes are fading away
The revenge is sweet
Get back on your feet 'cause a war is upon us today

The reason we stand
Facing the rising sun, the pain goes on and on
We hold deep inside
The power to guide us until we touch the sky

The reason we stand with pride
Is the will to live and to reach for the stars
So never look back
You're always just one step away

(solos)

The reason we stand
Facing the rising sun, the pain goes on and on
We hold deep inside
The power to guide us until we touch the sky

The reason we stand with pride
Is the will to live and to reach for the stars
So never look back
And we'll keep on fighting until we touch the sky

The reason we stand (facing the rising sun)
(The pain goes on and on) Pain goes on and on
(We hold deep inside, the power to)
Fighting until we touch the sky
The power we hold deep inside (the will to live and to reach for the stars)
Until we find the sky
One step away

Just one step away
Just the sun, just the sun, just the sun
