Dream Theater, Untethered Angel

You built this world around you, your universe In spite of best intentions, things could not be worse Chaos and fear left you hangin' by a thread As you argue with the voice inside your head

Untethered angel Falling into darkness Don't be afraid of letting go Givin' up yourself won't set you free

Mistreatment and dismay, nightmares of wasted days Can't live your life this way, something needs to change Healthy, accepting thoughts, intent on driving us Avoidance at all costs, a painful thing to watch

Fear can't live inside you Push you to the edge Face the fear within you Wake up from the dead

Untethered angel Falling into darkness Don't be afraid of letting go Givin' up yourself won't set you free

Set you free

Untethered angel Falling into darkness Don't be afraid of letting go Open your heart, be set you free
