

Dua Lipa, Lions & Tigers & Bears

I look in the mirror
All I see is nothing
I look out the window for some peace
But all I find is nothing

Then you take my hand, and suddenly I feel something
Side by side, lying next to you
I feel something

All I need is you to protect me 'til tomorrow
All I need is some comfort from my sorrow
All I need is you to hold me through my nightmares
I need you to keep me safe from lions and tigers and bears
All I need is you to protect me 'til tomorrow
All I need is some comfort from my sorrow
All I need is you to hold me through my nightmares
I need you to keep me safe from lions and tigers and bears

Then you take my hand and suddenly, I feel something
Side by side, lying next to you
I feel something

All I need is you to protect me 'til tomorrow
All I need is some comfort from my sorrow
All I need is you to hold me through my nightmares
I need you to keep me safe from lions and tigers and bears
All I need is you to protect me 'til tomorrow
All I need is some comfort from my sorrow
All I need is you to hold me through my nightmares
I need you to keep me safe from lions and tigers and bears
