Duran Duran, Lonely In Your Nightmare

Even on the darkest night when empty promise means empty hand And soldiers coming home like shadows turning red And when the lights of hope are fading quickly then look to me I'll be your homing angel I'll be in your head

Because you're lonely in your nightmare let me in And there's heat beneath your winter let me in

I see the delta traces living lonely out on the limb And a passing glimmer warm beneath your skin Please tread gently on the ground when all around you earth turns to fire Only get a second chance when danger's on the wind

Because you're lonely in your nightmare let me in Because there's heat beneath your winter let me in

Must be lucky whether when you find the kind of wind that you need Come on show me all the light and shade that made your name I know you've got it in your head I've seen that look before You've built your refuge turns you captive all the same

Because your lonely in your nightmare let me in And it's barren in your garden let me in Because there's heat beneath your winter let me in Because you're so lonely in your nightmare let me in And it's cold out on the stone range let me in Because there's heat beneath your winter let me in
