

Dylan Ware, Black Star

Got my feet in my boots and I'm hungry again
Got my guitar on my back and it's "goodbye my friend"
I got a rainy day in my head

I got another new town and an empty bar
I got another hotel room under a lucky star
I got a rainy day in my head

I wrote a letter for my home I don't know how to send
I got a hole in my soul that I can't seem to mend
I got a rainy day in my head

I got a pocketful of songs and a solitude
And I've been thinking too much
I got a rainy day in my head

Ooh, run like a rainbow

Got nothing but choice, I've no one to blame
Got a whole wide world, got only my name
I got a rainy day in my head

Clouds in the sky and earth down below
Got a lot of free time to watch myself flow
I got a rainy day in my head

And when I walk out of here you might hear me sigh
I've got tears in my threads and tears in my eyes
I got a rainy day in my head

And I skip like a stone in the wind and the rain
I've got thirty good reasons and, ah, then again
I got a rainy day in my head

Ooh, run like a rainbow, again

Carry me through the ancient plains
Lay me out in the driving rains
Yesterday is a long, long time ago

And I don't mind if I fade away
Wrap my dream in a sunken day
Loneliness is a kiss from freedom's glow
Run like a rainbow

Now I'm standing at a window in a darkened room
I see the mountains in the night and a silver moon
I got a rainy day in my head

Got a fire, got a beer, got a bottle of gin
Gonna take my love in a moonlight spin
Got a rainy day in my head

Another pig shit morning
I say my prayers
You think I woulda learned something in all these years
I got a rainy day in my head

Got my feet in my boots and I'm hungry again
Got my guitar on my back and it's "goodbye my friend"
I got a rainy day in my head

Oooh, run like a rainbow
