

Dysrider, Bury the Omen

Bury, bury, bury the omen
Confront, confront your burden
Never, never, never stay silent
We are one and we can't – fall down

A dark belief will always feed the silence
Suffer life behind your fence
Die in your absence

What are the odds of beating them ?
Let's stay in these convenient terms
Do what you're told and you'll be fine
Obey their laws and fall in line

Either you die old and unseen
Or you can shape your own destiny

Bury, bury, bury the omen
Confront, confront your burden
Never, never, never stay silent
We are one and we can't - fall down

We all walk side by side
Don't listen to predictions
We're the only ones who can decide

Forever against the tide
You and me can bring them down
We can take anybody's crown
Even if it comes to decide

Alone in hell you're just useless
Without any help your strike's aimless
United we can wreck any oppression
Send the odds for the weak to oblivion

Either you die old and unseen
Or you can shape your own destiny

[Chorus]

Bury the omen
Surrender to no one
Draw your own signs
Don't ever stay silent...

Don't ever stay silent !
Take what's rightfully yours
Wipe out your past and their unfair laws
And don't give up until you die
