

Dysrider, Witness Our Fall

Your passenger is here
Creeping inside you
Waiting to be released
Slowly eroding yourself

You came out of nowhere
You tried to wear me down
Tried to blind me, to stop me
Tried to bury me in despair

You took so many shapes
Hid yourself behind dark names
You allowed my fear to be real
Even though I know I created you

Dear passenger
This is your time
But I won't run away

Here forever
I'm gonna stand
And witness our fall

Sly thing, behind the skin
There is no scar this time
You shatter from the inside
Crawl from your hole to be set free

Dear passenger
This is your time
But I won't run away

Here forever
I'm gonna stand
And witness our fall

You may come back one day
My failure will be your break
But I'll stand and to your face
I will scream my resilience

Dear passenger
This is your time
But I won't run away

Here forever
I'm gonna stand
And witness our fall
Witness our fall !
