

Ed Sheeran, Bad Habits

Every time you come around
You know i can't say now
Every time the Sun goes down
I let you take control

I can feel the paradise
Before my wounded pulse
And tonight have something beautiful

My bad habits
Lit the late nights
Sitting alone
Conversations with the strangers
I barely know
Waiting to be the last
Probably won't
I got nothing left to lose
Or use
Or do my bad habits
Lit with the white eyes staring the space
And i know i lose control things i say
I was looking for the way
Now I can't escape
What the happens after 2
It's true /3x
My bad habits

My bad habits
Lit to you
My bad habits
Lit to you
My bad habits
Lit to you

Every pure intentions
When the good Times start
Falling for everything
To reach the first Times spark

Starting in the needs light
And the all get dark
Only know how to go too far

My bad habits
Lit the late nights
Sitting alone
Conversations with the strangers
I barely know
Waiting to be the last
Probably won't
Or use
Or do my bad habits
Lit with the white eyes staring the space
And i know i lose control things i say
Now I can't escape
It's true /3x
My bad habits

My bad habits
Lit to you
My bad habits

Lit to you
My bad habits
Lit to you

Be took the long way round
Born till the Roght now

My bad habits
Lit the late nights
Siting alone
Conversations with the strangers
I barely know
Or use
Or do my bad habits
Lit with the white eyes staring the space
And i know i lose control things i say
I was looking for the way
Now I can't escape
What the happens after 2
It's true /3x
My bad habits

My bad habits
Lit to you
My bad habits
Lit to you
My bad habits
Lit to you
