Edguy, Sacrifice

Too much time to get lost in the maze Tell me, isn't that strange You bleed to get there - you are ready To be a bird in a golden cage

Sweat is breaking on my brow Where's the freak to ease my pain Room is dark and big and empty Silence driving me insane

Night has fallen - demons laughing I'm waiting for the light of day Here's the land of milk and honey There you got the price to pay

Searching for shelter Riding the pendulum to paradise As I'm reaching higher - what a pure desire I'm swinging back towards the edge

And I drift away - killing sacrifice Here I go insane What a price to pay - little sacrifice I set off to Heaven and found bedlam

There's a part of me that has not been sold Save me please embrace me hold me Kiss my bleeding soul You can't see below the creature That's pounding, sitting in my neck If you'd see inside my head You surely wouldn't turn your back on me

I'm looking for shelter Riding the pendulum to paradise As I'm reaching higher - what a pure desire I'm swinging back towards the abyss

And I drift away - killing sacrifice Here I go insane What a price to pay - little sacrifice I set off to Heaven and found bedlam

Nothing remains the same
But still I hear those voices
Nothing remains the same
Where am I gonna go is it my destination
Or just a sick temptation
And I remember home when demons came
And I got swept away from me
