

Edna's Goldfish, Sunrise To Sunset

6 o'clock in the morning...I'm sipping' a cup of black coffee
Wondering did you make it home all right
I thought about the things that you said
Although it made no difference
I tried to work it out in my head

Then I saw you there with a tear in your eye
You said it was because of that other guy
From sunrise to sunset, I thought you'd be with me

But then you gave me one chance and we'll dance one last dance
Cuz the music won't stop till it's over

6 o'clock in the afternoon
From sunrise to sunset is really soon when I can't spend it with you

Lost myself in the blink of an eye.
Don't know why I sit here and I cry over you but I do

Then you called me and told me it's over
It's over
