

Edyta Bartosiewicz, If

If I were to die today
I think that I wouldn't care
If I were to numb my pain
I think I'd rather fade away

My love is crying
'Cause my love
My love is dying

If I were to feel again
I wonder what would make me feel
If I were to love again
I wonder if I could believe

My love is crying
'Cause my love
My love is dying

If I were to lose again
Like I've lost before
I know how it can hurt
I'd rather not to fall in love

My love is crying
My love
My love
My love is dying

No destruction!
I need no destruction!
No emotion!
I feel no emotion!
No no no no reaction!
I want no reaction!
No no devotion!
I want no devotion!
'Cause my love is crying
'Cause my love is crying
'Cause my love
(If I were to die today)
